About the Book

Little did this dove know, as he took his morning flight, something would hit him in mid-air so hard he would fall out of the sky into a muddy horse corral...terrified and unable to move. Luckily, he was noticed by a horseshoer with a great big mustache who gently picked him up and took him home for help.

This book will fill the reader with hope, compassion and belief in the power of love and inner-strength as Little Brave Heart shares his story of his life changing experience.

What a wonderful and absolutely BEAUTIFUL book! The pictures are amazing...so pretty & colorful - with a touch of whimsy, and little details everywhere! I could stare at them for hours! I am a huge animal lover and I absolutely LOVE this sweet story. A well written book that paints the picture as if you were there! Heart touching, happy, motivational and inspiring...I will be ordering many of these to give away as gifts for friends, and as donations to raise money to help support local wildlife rehab organizations. I am so thankful there are still selfless people in this world willing to help animals in need. If she wouldn't have helped this dove, he would not have survived. On behalf of all animal lovers...THANK YOU Sue Roy for helping this beautiful, sweet creature and for telling his story! Your giving heart is an inspiration, as is Little Brave Heart's trust, patience and determination. Blessings!
